

From: Carl Lofstrom [mailto:sandcloud@embarqmail.com]
Subject: Computer Tech 2017

Hi Attendees,

Come join us and help celebrate our 11th Annual Computer Tech 2017 on:
Saturday, January 28, 2017 at the:
Northwest Florida State College (NWFSC), Niceville.

To preregister go to Eventbrite:

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/tech-17-tickets-31133699734?aff=es2>

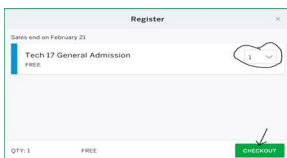

(1) Click on the NWFACUG Logo,

(2) Click on the Green Register Box,

(3) Select how many attendees and Click on Green Checkout Box,

(4) Fill out the Form and then Click on Green Complete Registration Box

Print out your ticket(s) that will be emailed to you. Present them at the registration desks located on the first and second floors of the Student Services Center.

The Keynote Talk “There’s An App For That!” by Hewie Poplock starts at 8:00 am. At 9:00 am the first classes start. To get some idea of the “App Talks” for the Computer Tech 2017 open the attached .pdf file. You will find something for beginners, intermediate and advanced users. Bring a notepad and pen.

Our presenters bring many years of IT experiences to the classrooms. They plan to show the key functions of some very interesting free and paid “Apps.” You will have this opportunity to share your most favorite “Apps” at the “App Exchange.” This is place to update your skills and also learn some new “Apps.”

Plan to spend the day on campus. A pizza lunch to be made available for purchase. The Starbucks Coffee Shop is open all day for coffee, beverages, sandwiches and snacks.

Carl Lofstrom

PS: I know some of our winter visitors will not be coming to Florida this winter. We will miss you but not forget you. Many of the PowerPoint slides from the “App Talks” to be made available on the Computer Tech website. Just email me to have your name removed.

PS: Please invite your friends to preregister and attend with you.

PS: Any questions do not hesitate to email me at: sandcloud@embarqmail.com